Principal's Message

Next Friday is the end of Term 1 at Correliu, and we will be halfway through Semester One. Students are managing to persevere and do their best with the COVID protocols and mask wearing in the school and we appreciate everyone's help with this.

Since the beginning of the school year our attendance email system has not been working properly. Our computer technicians are trying their best to work through the issues, but it seems like the system is not very reliable. As such, we are working on finding a different system that will be more reliable. For the time being, please feel free to call the school after 3:00 in the afternoon or email your child's teachers to check on their attendance.

Please remember that if you have any questions or concerns regarding your child, or school we are happy to listen and help, even if it is something that occurred outside of school.

Thank you for your continued support!
